I. Purpose

The purpose of “The Middle East Public Opinion Survey (Syria 2017)” is to grasp: 1) how Syrian people evaluate their own way of living, 2) how Syrian people view humanitarian and economic aid from foreign countries including Japan.

II. Cooperative Organizations and Collaborative Research Projects

In conducting the survey, we have had full support of the Syrian Opinion Center for Polls & Studies (SOCPS, مركز الرأي السوري للاستطلاع والدراسيات, Director Rizq Elias) to finalize the contents of the questionnaire, doing samplings, making interviews with poll subjects and inputting data.

Yutaka Takaoka, who was a researcher in charge of “An empirical study of the political system and its change in the Middle East by means of public opinion surveys,” and Hiroyuki Aoyama, who helped the research and headed “Non-state Actors and Political Structures in the Middle East after the ‘Arab Spring’” Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research 2015 – 2018 (Heisei 27 – 30) (Basic Research Program (B) 15H03132), were in charge of liaison and coordination with SOCPS.

Preparation of the public opinion survey, and its data processing, etc. were conducted by Takaoka, who was a researcher in charge of “An Empirical Study of the Political System and Its Change in the Middle East from the Perspective of Public Opinion Research” (headed by Shingo Hamanaka), and Aoyama, his research collaborator.

III. Method of Public Opinion Survey

1. Survey schedule

The first step: Preparation (From December 1, 2016 to March 7, 2017)

- The first pretest (five investigators administered it to fifty people. January 15, 2017)
- The second pretest (five investigators administered it to fifty people. January 31, 2017)
- Deciding on the questionnaire (Based on the pretest results, the “Trust / Not trust” choice and two satellite broadcasting stations were added to Q1-5. Q4-2 was divided into two: the case of moving house inside Syria (Q4-2-1) and the case of moving house to the outside of Syria (Q4-2-2).)

The second step: Field survey (From March 8, 2017 to May 5, 2017)

- The administration of the real survey (twenty-five investigators, five supervisors. From March 8, 2017 to March 31, 2017)
- Collecting the written questionnaires (From April 1, 2017 to May 2, 2017)
- The third step: Preparation of the final report (From May 2, 2017 to June 1, 2017)
- Preparation of the final report (From May 8, 2017 to May 25, 2017)
- Sending of the image files of the written questionnaires and the image files depicting the survey administration to Japan (From May 8, 2017 to May 30, 2017)
- Sending of the final report to Japan (June 2, 2017)

2. Survey subjects

- 1,500 male and female Syrian nationals aged 18 to 65, residing in the Syrian Arab Republic.

3. Survey method

- Door-to-door individual personal interview in Arabic.
- Number of survey staffs: 20

4. Method of sampling

Samples to be pulled out in the following manner.

- Rely on the population consensus of 2004 of the Central Statistics Bureau of the Cabinet Office, the demographic estimates of 2011 by said Bureau, and the demographic estimates of 2016 by SOCPS survey team.
- Determine samples by the stratified two-stage random sampling method (cluster sampling in the second stage, with systematic sampling from each cluster).
 - The 1st stage: 6 prefectures are selected from the following 5 geographical districts comprising Syria.
 - Southern Jazeera region (consisting of Hasakah Prefecture, Deir Ezzor Prefecture and Raqqa Prefecture): Hasakah Prefecture
 - Northern region (consisting of Aleppo Prefecture and Idlib Prefecture): Aleppo Prefecture
 - Seashore region (consisting of Lattakia Prefecture and Tartous Prefecture): Lattakia Prefecture
 - Central region (consisting of Hims Prefecture and Hamah Prefecture): Hims Prefecture
 - Southern region (consisting of Damascus Prefecture, Damascus Suburb Prefecture, Quneitra Prefecture, Daraa Prefecture, Sweyda Prefecture): Damascus Prefecture and Damascus Suburb Prefecture
 - The 2nd stage: In each prefecture, 30 clusters (with each cluster consisting of 100-200 households) are selected, representing demographic diversities in ethnicity (religion/sect, native tongue), social attributes, economic attributes and habitat (urban/rural). For clusters in Governorates, refer to “VI. Cluster”.

Variables considered in selection of clusters are as follows:

 - 1) Sex (male, female)
 - 2) Age bracket (18-24, 25-35, 36-50, 51-65)
 - 3) Academic level (illiterate, barely literate, elementary education, high-school education, professional school education, university graduate, post-graduate education)
 - 4) Religion
 - 5) Economic level (income, living standard, 3-stage)
 - 6) Social level (3-stage)

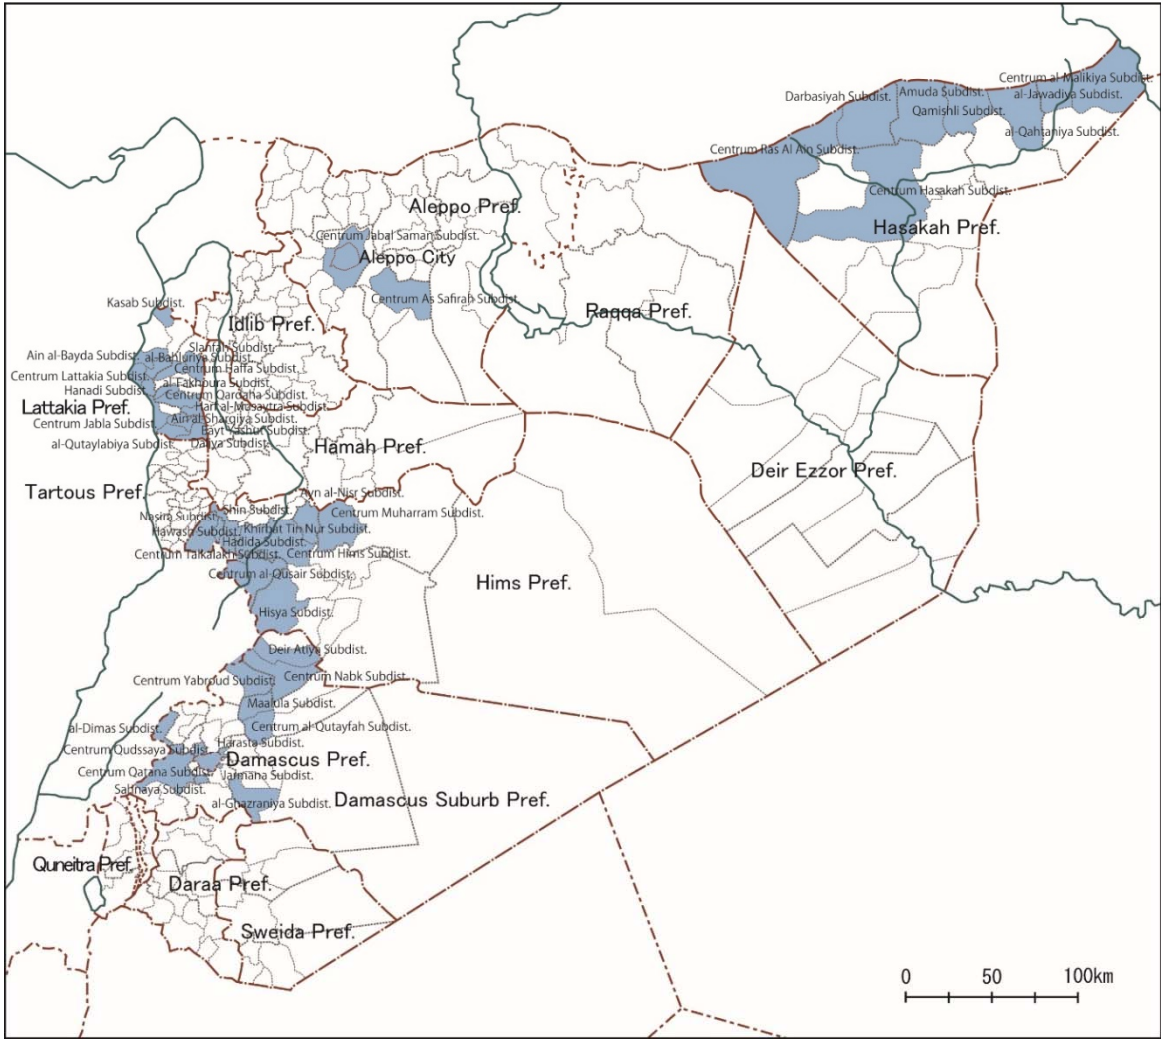

After cluster selection, select 10 households at random from each cluster and 1 member from each household for interview.

- Sample error
 - Prefecture: Since accurate population dynamics are not available due to national and international refugee emigration activated by the Arab Spring, sample distribution within the 6 survey prefectures, Hasakah, Aleppo, Lattakia, Hims and Damascus/Damascus Suburb, was made in equal 300 samples each.
 - Substitutes for clusters: Substitute clusters were surveyed for part of the clusters that proved difficult to be interviewed.
 - Sex, education level, etc: In the Syrian society, male household members are deemed to be subjects for interview surveys, which tendency has called for more numbers of male than female samples. Numbers of illiterate and barely literate samples have been reduced, considering the rising education levels in Syria.
